City of Idaho Falls unveils new fleet of Chevy Volts

Idaho Falls, ID, Mayor Jared Fuhriman unveils five new Chevy Volts at a ceremony today outside of Idaho Falls Power. The city and utility are testing requirements for connecting the plug-in hybrid electric vehicles to the grid based upon varying conditions. Idaho Falls Power is one of 11 utilities involved in the Pacific Northwest Smart Grid Demonstration Project, or PNW-SGDP, the largest, regional smart grid demo in the nation.
